FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ENGINES PLUS APPOINTED OFFICIAL UK DISTRIBUTOR OF FPT INDUSTRIAL ENGINES FOR MARINE AND INDUSTRIAL APPLICATIONS

Engines Plus, a leading provider of high-quality engine solutions, is proud to announce its appointment as an authorised UK Distributor of FPT Industrial (a brand of Iveco Group) engines. This strategic partnership enables Engines Plus to offer a comprehensive range of engines suitable for both marine and industrial applications, further strengthening its offering across multiple sectors.

Meeting the Needs of Industrial Applications

With FPT Industrial's proven reputation for delivering robust and reliable engines, Engines Plus is well-equipped to meet the demands of industrial markets. From generators to water pumps and jetting units, FPT Industrial engines provide exceptional performance and durability across a range of applications. Engines Plus will support customers with comprehensive parts availability, expert service, and tailored solutions to ensure they have the power they need to succeed.

“Industrial applications such as generators, water pumps, and jetting units represent a significant opportunity for us,” commented Simon Nutley, Sales Director at Engines Plus. “This partnership with FPT Industrial allows us to provide dependable, high-quality solutions that align with our customers’ operational requirements. The FPT Industrial product extends our offering for the stringent EU Stage V compliance to the lesser regulated engines. The FPT Industrial off-road engine range offers complete packages up to 670 kW ”

Delivering Excellence in Marine Applications

FPT Industrial also manufactures a dedicated range of engines specifically designed for marine applications, catering to both leisure craft and commercial vessels. Designed for durability and efficiency, FPT Industrial marine engines integrate seamlessly with Engines Plus’ existing portfolio, offering customers the performance they can trust.

Hedley Beavis stated, "Whether on land or at sea, FPT Industrial engines deliver the reliability that's essential for our customers. We're excited to bring these outstanding products to both the industrial and marine markets, supported by the expertise and service that Engines Plus is known for. We have been looking to extend our product offering here in the UK, this will be our only brand for larger engines, which are completely packaged and ready to go, we are excited on how this will develop Engines Plus as a leading supplier across all sectors."

A Bright Future for Engines Plus and FPT Industrial

With years of experience in the powertrain industry and a strong network of existing connections, Engines Plus is well-positioned to drive FPT Industrial's success in the UK. The company is already reaching out to key stakeholders across both industrial and marine markets to introduce the benefits of FPT Industrial engines and ensure an easy transition for customers.

"This is more than just a new product line for us," Beavis concluded. "It's an opportunity to expand into untapped markets, strengthen our relationships with customers, and provide innovative solutions that set new standards in performance and reliability."
